NOTES FOR CONTRIBUTORS

The Journal of Mediterranean Studies welcomes the submission of papers of up to 8,000 words on any branch of Mediterranean Studies that deals with the history, cultures and societies that border the Mediterranean Sea. This includes social anthropology, archaeology, history, literature, popular art, etc. Three copies of papers should be submitted. Submissions are considered for publication on the understanding that the author offers JMS an exclusive option to publish and that the paper is not currently under consideration for publication elsewhere. It is the responsibility of the author to obtain permission for using any previously published material. Requests for permission to reproduce articles or parts of articles from JMS should be directed to the General Editor of the Journal. Permission is not normally granted until one year has elapsed since the date of publication in JMS, although permission to translate into other languages is normally granted immediately.

To facilitate the efficient consideration and handling of papers the following considerations should be observed:

Manuscripts should be typed double-lined on A4 paper with ample margins. Notes and references should also be double spaced on separate pages at the end of the article. Acknowledgements, credits, etc. should form an unnumbered note at the end of the text. Separate sections in articles should have a text sub-title or sub-heading not a number.

Bibliographic references should be cited in the text by the author’s last name, date of publication and page, e.g. (Campbell 1964:106), or if the author’s name is mentioned in the text by the date and page reference only e.g. (1964:106). Entries in the references (i.e. bibliography) should be in alphabetical order of authors and should include the following: name and initials of author(s), date, title and (for books) place of publication, name of publisher. For articles the following should be included in the following order: name of journal in full (or abbreviated according to the World List of Scientific Periodicals), volume number (Arabic numbers to be used throughout) and pagination. Examples are:

Articles or chapters in collective works edited by an individual should be entered in the following way:

To avoid confusion paragraphs must be indented rather than separated by a blank line. Single quotation marks should be used for quotations. Quotations of more than two sentences should be indented. ‘Foreign’ words, i.e. words in a language other that that being used as the main language of the article should be italicised or underlined (except proper names). Quotations in language of the article are accepted as long as they are germane to the argument. In the case of a script other than Latin script (e.g. Greek, Arabic), an accompanying translation must be submitted, side by side. Non Latin texts must be typed and clearly legible to avoid confusion at the printers. Tables, figures and other illustrations including photographs should be on separate sheets, numbered and titled.

Each article should contain an abstract of 100-150 words.

Page proof of articles will be sent to authors, who must return them before the date indicated. When proofs are not received in time the Editor’s own corrected proofs will be sent to the printers. Alterations at proof stage are strongly discouraged and will only be accepted at the discretion of the General Editor. Authors receive an electronic offprint of articles and a copy of the journal.

Manuscripts are to be submitted in electronic form as ‘.doc’ or ‘.docx’ files to the editor on: editor.jms@um.edu.mt
