Part-time Pedagogy Course

A two-year part-time pedagogy course leading to the Postgraduate Certificate in Education (PGCE) is being offered in October 2011 in the afternoon.

The course is open to persons in possession of (a) a Bachelor’s degree and have been teaching in a licensed school for four years or longer; or (b) a Master’s degree obtained following a Bachelor’s degree; or (c) a doctoral degree.

In line with the provisions of the PGCE regulations, this pedagogy course is offered only in the approved curricular subjects taught in local secondary schools. The subjects that the Faculty of Education intends to offer are given at:

Since the course includes periods of teaching practice in schools, the number of places which can be offered to students depends on the number of classes available for teaching practice in each subject/teaching area in all schools.

For teaching areas where a limited number of teaching practice placements are available, the number of students to be accepted has to be restricted. Teaching areas with a limited number of places and the number of places will be announced as soon as possible.

If the number of fully qualified applicants exceeds the number of students that can be accepted in particular teaching areas, interviews will be held during September 2011 to place applicants in rank order according to criteria approved by Senate and published on the University website.
