FACULTY OF LAWS
Department of Media, Communications and Technology Law

Medicine and the Law Programme

1. A Medicine and the Law Programme is being set up within the Faculty of Laws as an initiative of the Department of Media, Communications and Technology Law.

2. The aims of the Programme are the following:

   (a) to undertake, promote, facilitate and coordinate the study of medicine and the law;

   (b) to design and support the delivery of study-units on medicine and the law at both undergraduate and postgraduate level, through the appropriate department/s in the Faculty of Laws and other Faculties, Institutes and Centres, including support of supervision of dissertations in the area of medicine and the law;

   (c) to collaborate with local and foreign centres, programmes and individuals working in medicine and the law for research purposes;

   (d) to encourage publication of research on medicine and the law subjects;

   (e) such other aims which the Faculty of Laws may add from time to time.

3. The Programme shall have the following structure:

   (a) a coordinator appointed by Council on the recommendation of the Rector after consultation with the Dean of the Faculty of Laws;

   (b) a Board consisting of the Coordinator and four other members, appointed by Senate on the recommendation of the Rector, after consultation with the Head of the Department of Media, Communications and Technology Law and the Dean of the Faculty of Laws;

   (c) the Chairman shall be appointed by Senate, on the recommendation of the Rector chosen from amongst the members of the Board;

   (d) the appointment of the Coordinator and the members of the Board shall be for one year, which can be renewed.

4. The Programme will operate as a cost-centre, subject to the University’s financial