

L-Università ta' Malta

Master of Arts in Spanish and Latin American Studies

Learning outcomes:

- Appraise and evaluate critically cultural questions in the Hispanic world and in Hispanic studies.
- Learn how to make use of archival resources and to write academically about the field.
- Collect data for research analysis and apply sources and references to strengthen your writing.
- Appreciate, explain and discuss a range of aspects related to foreign cultures.
- Present arguments that are well-written and articulated, clearly expressed and supported with evidence.
- Apply a range of theories, concepts and ideas to your research.
- Plan and undertake independent research (developing specialised practices in order to identify research problems and to conduct original research).
- Gather information, develop critical awareness, and evaluate that information critically.
- Engage with complex scholarly questions and formulate independent hypothesis and these about them.
- Work independently.