

Call for Applications Post/s of Full-Time Research Support Officer I

Micro Combined Heat and Power Project – R&I 2016 Programme

And Any Other Projects Undertaken by the
Department of Industrial Electrical Power Conversion
Faculty of Engineering

1. Applications are invited for a Research Support Officer to work on a Micro Combined Heat and Power (CHP) project financed by the R&I 2016 Programme. The main objective of the project is to work on the research and design of a novel single phase Micro CHP. The end product should be small enough to enable consumers to integrate it with other renewable energy sources such as photovoltaic panels and energy storage systems to provide a smart home energy system. Further information on this project may be obtained from Professor Joseph Cilia (email: joseph.cilia@um.edu.mt tel: 21333995). The applicant may also be required to work on any other related project/s undertaken by the Department of Industrial Electrical Power Conversion within the Faculty of Engineering.
2. Applicants must be in possession of at least a first degree in Electrical and/or Electronic Engineering. Candidates with experience on the related subject and/or work experience will be given priority.

The University of Malta is an Equal Opportunity employer.

3. The post is for an initial period of one year, which may be renewed for up to approximately 3 years, and carries an initial annual salary of €20,800.
4. Candidates should submit their letter of application, a copy of their curriculum vitae and copies of their certificates. Applications may be sent by e-mail to projects.hrm@um.edu.mt. Applications should be received by not later than Sunday, 8th October 2017.

Late applications will not be considered.

5. Further information may be obtained from the Office for the website <http://www.um.edu.mt/hrmd/vacancies>.

Office of the University,
Msida, 26th September 2017

Call for Applications
Post/s of Full-Time Research Support Officer I
R&I 2016 PROGRAMME

Micro Combine Heat and Power Project

And Any Other Projects Undertaken by the
Department of Industrial Electrical Power Conversion
Faculty of Engineering

Further Information

1. The Research Support Officer will be responsible for the execution of a number of tasks related to the Micro CHP project financed by the R&I 2016 Programme, in which the Department of Industrial Electrical Power Conversion is the lead partner. Further information about this projects may be obtained from Professor Joseph Cilia (email: joseph.cilia@um.edu.mt tel: 21333995). The applicant may also be required to work on any other projects undertaken by the Department of Industrial Electrical Power Conversion.
2. The main duties and responsibilities of the appointee will consist of carrying out Research and Project Management Assistant duties including:
 - a. produce deliverables and related reports within the stipulated time frames as specified in the project description
 - b. keep detailed progress reports and abide to all the conditions imposed by the project
 - c. endeavour in generating technical and scientific conference/journal papers
 - d. assist in the dissemination process with the Maltese industrial stakeholders via a workshop/seminar
 - e. travel and attend meetings/conferences as the need arises
 - f. take part in the submission of EU-funded research proposals to sustain related research beyond the funding of the project,
 - g. perform any other project related task as instructed by the project coordinator and key experts.
3. The appointee is expected to work at such places and during such hours as may be determined by the University authorities.
4. The selection procedure will involve:
 - a. scrutiny of qualifications and experience claimed and supported by testimonials and/or certificates (copies to be included with the application); and
 - b. an interview and / or extended interview.
5. The post is for an initial period of one year, which will be subject to a probationary period and to the provisions of the Statutes, Regulations and Bye-Laws of the University of Malta which are now or which may hereafter be in force.

Office of the University,
Msida, 26th September 2017