Programme Content and Delivery

I found the programme to be intellectually stimulating.
The programme content met the expectations I formed from the course overview and programme documentation available through the Course Finder.
I believe that the combination of the teaching and learning methods employed (lectures, tutorials, group projects etc) were key to helping me reach the aims of the programme.
In general, lecturers made extensive and effective use of the VLE.
I actively participated in VLE discussion groups.
I believe that my programme kept pace with recent developments in the field.

Organization and Management

The programme is well organized and the study-units form a cohesive whole.
I found the programme workload manageable.
I usually had a clear idea of what was expected of me in the programme and how I was doing.
There was opportunity to give feedback on how the programme was proceeding.
I was able to maintain a good work-life balance throughout my studies.
