

As from 2014-2015 the department will be re-introducing the dissertation as a compulsory component for 3rd year B.A. (Hons) students.

Students should inform the Head of Department on the subject they are interested in pursuing towards the end of November and it is the Head of Department who assigns a supervisor for the student.

Students will be informed of the date that the dissertation should be handed in. (Usually following the Easter break)

The length of the undergraduate dissertation is of 15, 000 words, including footnotes, but excluding the bibliography and appendices.

Students should follow one of the Manuals of Style (Chicago or Harvard) indicated on the web site of the department of philosophy.
