Chapter 1	Introduction: the Intellectual and Historical Context	1
	CAROLINE MALONE, SIMON STODDART, ANTHONY BONANNO, TANCREDO GOUDER, REUBEN GRIMA & DAVID TRUMP
	1.1. The significance of the work on Gozo	1
	1.2. The general archaeological history of the Maltese Islands and background to research and the Gozo Project 1987–94	5
	1.3. The present project	6
	1.4. The history of research into domestic structures of the Temple Period: the context of the Ghajnsielem Road structure	7
	1.5. The history of research into Temple Period mortuary structures: the context of the Circle	7
	1.6. The construction of a cultural sequence and a chronology	15
Chapter 2	The Environment of the Maltese Islands	17
	PATRICK J. SCHEMBRI, CHRIS HUNT, MARTYN PEDLEY, CAROLINE MALONE & SIMON STODDART
	2.1. The geography of the Maltese Islands	17
	2.2. The geology of Gozo	17
	2.3. Climate and soils	18
	2.4. Ecosystems	19
	2.5. Archaeological approaches and environmental sampling	19
	2.6. Terrestrial molluscs and the changing environment of the Circle	20
	2.7. Landscape evolution in the Maltese Islands	20
	2.8. The landsnails of Malta — characteristics of the Maltese non-marine snail fauna and their biogeography and ecology	21
	2.9. Mollusc taphonomy — processes on archaeological sites	22
	2.10. Sampling strategy and methodology	23
	2.10.1. Preparation of samples	23
	2.10.2. Stratigraphic procedure	27
	2.10.3. Statistical analysis	27
	2.11. Overall ecological patterns in the Circle samples	27
	2.12. Ecological patterns by phase	29
	2.13. Discussion and conclusions	38
	2.14. Conclusion: archaeological implications	39
Chapter 3	The Domestic Environment	41
	CAROLINE MALONE, REUBEN GRIMA, JOSEPH MAGRO-CONTI, DAVID TRUMP, SIMON STODDART & HOLLY HARDISTY
	3.1. Methods to investigate the domestic environment	41
	3.2. The survey results	41
	3.3. Ghajnsielem Road	42
	3.3.1. Introduction	42
	3.3.2. Structure 1	43
	3.3.3. Structure 2	49
	3.3.4. The overall layout	49
	3.3.5. Dating	49
	3.3.6. Environmental study	51
	3.4. Synthesis and significance	51
	3.5. Material and construction	52

Chapter 4	The Ritual Environment: the Context of the Circle REUBEN GRIMA, CAROLINE MALONE & SIMON STODDART	57
	4.1. The location	57
	4.2. Ġgantija	57
	4.3. Għar ta' Ghejżu	59
	4.4. Santa Verna	59
	4.5. 'Another circle of Cyclopean wall'	60
	4.6. The integrated ritual context	60
	4.7. Conclusions	62
 Chapter 5	 Methods Applied in the Analysis of the Circle CAROLINE MALONE, SIMON MASON & SIMON STODDART	 63
	5.1. Introduction	63
	5.2. Pre-survey studies	63
	5.3. Geophysical survey at the Circle and interpretation of the resistivity and magnetometer results	63
	5.3.1. Introduction	63
	5.3.2. The resistivity and proton magnetometer survey	67
	5.3.3. Interpretation of the resistivity and magnetometer results	67
	5.3.4. Ground-penetrating radar	68
	5.4. Survey and condition of the Circle	68
	5.5. Excavation methodology, recording and post-excavation analysis	70
	5.5.1. Introduction	70
	5.5.2. Pottery analysis	71
	5.5.3. Analysis of other samples and small finds	72
	5.6. Excavation progress and development	72
	5.7. Environmental sampling programme on the site	77
	5.8. Computing applications	77
	5.9. Photography	78
 Chapter 6	 The Archaeological Sequence of the Circle SIMON STODDART, PETER HARDY, CAROLINE MALONE, SIMON MASON, MARTYN PEDLEY & DAVID TRUMP	 79
	6.1. Introduction	79
	6.2. Pre-human development: the formation of the cave complex	79
	6.3. Introduction to the methodology	80
	6.4. Żebbuġ phase activity	82
	6.5. Mġarr phase activity	83
	6.6. Ġgantija phase activity	83
	6.7. Saflieni-style activity	85
	6.8. Tarxien phase activity	86
	6.9. Cave collapse	87
	6.10. Tarxien Cemetery phase activity	88
	6.11. Borġ in-Nadur phase activity	89
	6.12. The Bayer event	90
	6.13. Agricultural features	91
	6.14. Summary	92
 Chapter 7	 Żebbuġ Phase Levels: Spatial and Stratigraphic Analysis CAROLINE MALONE, SIMON STODDART, DAVID TRUMP & CORINNE DUHIG	 95
	7.1. Introduction	95
	7.2. The intact Żebbuġ rock-cut tomb	95
	7.2.1. Introduction	95
	7.2.2. The tomb	96
	7.2.3. The shaft	97
	7.2.4. The west chamber	98
	7.2.5. The east chamber	99
	7.2.6. Associated grave goods	100
	7.2.7. The human remains	102

	7.3. Other Żebbuġ deposits at the Circle	103
	7.3.1. Niche on southwestern edge of East Cave	103
	7.3.2. Deposits above the East Cave collapse	103
	7.3.3. Lower levels of the south edge of the site	103
	7.3.4. The south edge of the site	104
	7.3.5. West niche in the West Cave system	104
	7.3.6. Other rich deposits in the West Cave area	106
	7.3.7. Bayer clearance deposit	106
	7.4. Discussion	106
Chapter 8	The Tarxien Phase Levels: Spatial and Stratigraphic Analysis and Reconstruction	109
	SIMON STODDART, CAROLINE MALONE, SIMON MASON, BRIDGET TRUMP & DAVID TRUMP
	8.1. Ground-level surface features	109
	8.1.1. The Circle	109
	8.1.2. Threshold features	109
	8.1.3. Tarxien burial pits	116
	8.2. Below-surface features: northern zone	123
	8.2.1. Introduction	126
	8.2.2. Northern test pit	126
	8.2.3. North niche	126
	8.2.4. Deep zone in West Cave	133
	8.2.5. Northeast niche	137
	8.2.6. Intermediate 'entry' zone of niches between northeast niches and central 'Shrine'	137
	8.3. Below-surface features: central zone of West Cave	140
	8.3.1. Central 'Shrine'	140
	8.3.2. Display zone (783) within West Cave	159
	8.3.3. West niche	163
	8.4. Below-surface features: collapsed East Cave	163
	8.4.1. Introduction: collapsed East Cave zone (originally Area H)	163
	8.4.2. The Intermediate zone (a)	167
	8.5. Below-surface features: southern zone of West Cave	176
	8.5.1. Deposits in the southeastern area of the West Cave related to the tapering stone at the entrance (553)	176
	8.5.2. Test pit	177
	8.5.3. Southern end of West Cave sequence	178
	8.5.4. The inner niches demarcated by white chalky limestone deposits	179
	8.6. Below-surface features: the interlinkage from South Cave to areas to the north	181
	8.6.1. The interlinkage to East Cave — the Intermediate zone and external screen	181
	8.6.2. The interlinkage to the 'Shrine'	182
	8.6.3. Rock-fall and slump deposits	182
	8.7. Architecture within the Circle and the caves	184
	8.7.1. Approaches to the study of reconstruction	184
	8.7.2. Structural arrangements	186
Chapter 9	Spatial and Stratigraphic Analysis of Tarxien Cemetery Levels	207
	NATHANIEL CUTAJAR, REUBEN GRIMA, ANTHONY PACE, SIMON STODDART & HOLLY HARDISTY
	9.1. The northern area of the site	207
	9.1.1. Stratigraphic succession	207
	9.1.2. Discussion	212
	9.2. The eastern edge of the site	213
	9.2.1. The stratigraphic succession	213
	9.2.2. Discussion	215
	9.3. The Threshold area	216
	9.4. The cave collapse above East Cave (originally Area H)	216
	9.5. The western edge of the caves	218
	9.6. Discussion	218

Chapter 10	Material Culture	219
	CAROLINE MALONE, ANTHONY BONANNO, DAVID TRUMP, JOHN DIXON, ROBERT LEIGHTON, MARTYN PEDLEY, SIMON STODDART & PATRICK J. SCHEMBRI
	10.1. Introduction	219
	10.2. The pottery	220
	10.2.1. Introduction	220
	10.2.2. Żebbuġ phase	221
	10.2.3. Mġarr, Ġgantija and Saflieni phases	226
	10.2.4. Mġarr phase	228
	10.2.5. Ġgantija phase	228
	10.2.6. Saflieni style	229
	10.2.7. Tarxien phase	231
	10.2.8. Exotic pottery	238
	10.2.9. Tarxien Cemetery phase	238
	10.2.10. Later phases	241
	10.3. The lithic assemblage	242
	10.3.1. Introduction	242
	10.3.2. Flint and chert	242
	10.3.3. Obsidian	250
	10.3.4. Ground and polished stone	253
	10.3.5. Pebbles	260
	10.4. Worked limestone	260
	10.4.1. Carved and worked stone fragments from the Circle	260
	10.4.2. Stone triangular-shaped weights	261
	10.4.3. Bowls, palettes and lamps, lids and footed vessels	261
	10.4.4. Grinding and polishing stones	264
	10.4.5. Querns	264
	10.4.6. Troughs and large vessels	264
	10.5. Shells and beads	266
	10.5.1. Introduction	266
	10.5.2. Locations and context	267
	10.5.3. Function, use and materials	268
	10.5.4. Organic material	268
	10.5.5. The significance of the shell assemblage	268
	10.5.6. The ornament assemblage	269
	10.5.7. Beads and threaded shells	272
	10.5.8. Comparanda	275
	10.5.9. 'V'-perforated buttons	276
	10.6. Worked bone	277
	10.6.1. Bone carvings and sculpture	277
	10.6.2. Decorative bone work (non-pendant)	280
	10.6.3. Bone work: utilitarian	280
	10.7. Figurative sculpture	282
	10.7.1. Statue menhir from the Żebbuġ rock-cut tomb (SF88, context (276))	282
	10.7.2. The large Temple Period standing figure	283
	10.7.3. The seated paired figures: SF742	289
	10.7.4. The 'shaman's' cache: SF784	298
	10.7.5. The smaller figurative stone sculpture and terracotta models from the Circle	305
	10.8. Tarxien Cemetery objects	312
	10.8.1. The discoid modelled figures	314
Chapter 11	The Human and Animal Remains	315
	SIMON STODDART, GERALDINE BARBER, CORINNE DUHIG, GEORGE MANN, TAMSIN O'CONNELL, LUCA LAI, DAVID REDHOUSE, ROBERT H. TYKOT & CAROLINE MALONE
	11.1. The human bone	315
	11.1.1. Introduction	315
	11.1.2. The nature of the deposit	316
	11.1.3. Żebbuġ: the sealed chamber tomb	318
	11.1.4. Methods for the analysis of the Żebbuġ chambered tomb	318

3.9.	Modern wall (context 3).	45
3.10.	Phase 4 plan.	45
3.11.	Phase 4, fifth floor, looking north.	45
3.12.	Phase 3 plan.	46
3.13.	Phase 2 plan.	46
3.14.	First floor, looking north.	46
3.15.	Phase 1 plan: rock-cut base.	46
3.16.	Rubble infill of rock-cut base, looking north.	46
3.17.	Interpretative plan.	47
3.18.	Mud-brick pillar, looking north.	47
3.19.	Harris matrix, showing the stratigraphy of the huts.	48
3.20.	Artefacts from Ghajnsielem huts.	50
3.21.	Known settlement distribution, against the topography of Gozo including the central agricultural plain.	52
3.22.	The range of domestic hut sizes in the Maltese Islands).	52

Chapter 4

4.1.	The distribution of sites on the south side of the Xagħra plateau.	57
4.2.	Plan of the two Ġgantija temples.	58
4.3.	Charles de Brocktorff's 1828 view of the interior of the larger, southern temple at Ġgantija.	58
4.4.	Plan of the Santa Verna monument.	60
4.5.	The distribution of sites on the south side of the Xagħra plateau showing potential processional routes.	61
4.6.	Diagram showing the topological relationship between ritual sites and natural features of the landscape.	62
4.7.	The distribution of temples on Gozo in relationship to the topography.	62

Chapter 5

5.1.	Magnetometer survey of the Circle. Range: 4–15 nT.	63
5.2.	Magnetometer survey of the Circle. Range: –15– 0 nT.	64
5.3.	Resistivity survey of the Circle. Range: 80–207 ohms.	64
5.4.	Resistivity survey of the Circle. Range: 100–200 ohms.	65
5.5.	Resistivity survey of the Circle. Range: 72–205 ohms.	65
5.6.	Resistivity survey of the Circle. Range: 72–323 ohms.	66
5.7.	Resistivity survey of the Circle. Range: 45–86 ohms.	66
5.8.	Area covered by ground-penetrating radar.	67
5.9.	Plan of the Circle showing location of the first trenches to test the geophysical results in 1987.	69
5.10.	Plan of the Circle, showing the area trenches, the grid and the extent of excavation.	69
5.11.	Plan of the Circle showing the nomenclature of major archaeological features on the site.	70
5.12.	The field before excavation in 1987.	73
5.13.	The field after excavation in 1987.	73
5.14.	Detail of the East Cave cavity showing open-area excavation in 1989.	73
5.15.	Aerial view of the Circle from the east showing the state of excavation in 1990.	74
5.16.	Aerial view of the Circle from the north showing the landscape context of the site in 1993.	74
5.17.	The north end of West Cave from the west showing the north chamber and central display zone in 1994.	75
5.18.	Detail of the 'Shrine' and the East Cave from the west in 1994.	75

Chapter 6

6.1.	Conjectural sections through the two main original adjoining cave systems.	80
6.2.	Geological observations in the cave system by Peter Hardy.	81
6.3.	Flow diagram of geological development of the cave system.	82
6.4.	Distribution of Żebbuġ pottery in prehistoric contexts.	82
6.5.	Distribution of significant locations within the excavation areas of the Circle of Żebbuġ pottery.	83
6.6.	Distribution of Ġgantija pottery in prehistoric contexts.	84
6.7.	Distribution of significant locations of Ġgantija pottery in prehistoric contexts.	84
6.8.	Distribution of Saflieni-style pottery in prehistoric contexts.	85
6.9.	Distribution of significant locations of Saflieni-style pottery in prehistoric contexts.	86
6.10.	Distribution of Tarxien pottery in prehistoric contexts.	86
6.11.	Distribution of significant locations of Tarxien pottery in prehistoric contexts.	87
6.12.	Distribution of significant locations of Tarxien Cemetery pottery in prehistoric contexts.	88
6.13.	Distribution of Tarxien Cemetery pottery in prehistoric contexts.	89
6.14.	Distribution of the purity of Borġ in-Nadur pottery in prehistoric contexts.	89
6.15.	Distribution of significant locations of Borġ in-Nadur pottery in prehistoric contexts.	90
6.16.	The location of the Bayer excavation.	90
6.17.	The location of the principal agricultural features and concentrations of prehistoric material found in them.	92
6.18.	A simplified presentation of the main stratigraphic and spatial features of the site.	93

Chapter 7

7.1.	Location of major Żebbuġ phase areas and deposits mentioned in the text.	95
7.2.	Sequence of plans and section of the chambered tomb shaft.	96
7.3.	Upper blocking stones in shaft.	96
7.4.	Lower blocking stone in shaft.	96

7.5.	Posthole cut in shaft.	97
7.6.	Main blocking stone of east chamber in situ.	97
7.7.	Plan and section of both chambers of rock-cut tomb.	99
7.8.	Plans of the chambers showing bone and artefact distribution.	101
7.9.	Harris matrix of the chambered tomb and associated modern features.	102
7.10.	Stratigraphy of niche on the southwestern edge of East Cave.	103
7.11.	Section across entrance to East Cave, facing west.	104
7.12.	Burial (131) located above cave collapse of East Cave.	104
7.13.	Stratigraphy of the west niche.	105
7.14.	Plans showing the stratigraphic development of the west niche.	105
7.15.	Distribution of major Žebbuġ features across site, including Žebbuġ-style figurines.	106
Chapter 8
8.1.	Major site zones for the Tarxien phase.	110
8.2.	Location of major detailed plans and sections.	110
8.3.	Lower (Tarxien) stratigraphy of the Threshold area.	111
8.4.	Sections across the Threshold area.	111
8.5.	The Threshold area.	111
8.6.	Detail plan of Threshold area.	112
8.7.	Upper (Tarxien) stratigraphy of the Threshold area, showing linkage to lower and uppermost stratigraphy.	113
8.8.	Sequence of levels of the northern Tarxien pit.	114
8.9.	Photo sequence of the northern Tarxien pit.	116
8.10.	Section through the East Cave collapse showing the central and southern pits.	117
8.11.	a) East Cave central pit; b) south pit; c) wider context of the south pit above the East Cave roof collapse.	118
8.12.	Plan of the East Cave upper cave collapse showing the central and southern pits.	119
8.13.	a) Upper East Cave collapse; b) collapsed roof fall in situ; c) section through East Cave.	120
8.14.	Central-pit stratigraphy, above East Cave collapse.	121
8.15.	Section of part of the East Cave southern pit.	123
8.16.	East Cave southern-pit stratigraphy.	123
8.17.	East–west section along 130N through collapsed North Cave.	124
8.18.	East–west section along 123N through the deep sounding into North Cave.	124
8.19.	East–west section along 111N through the Threshold and West Cave.	124
8.20.	North–south section along 94E through collapsed North Cave.	124
8.21.	North–south section along 97E through West Cave.	124
8.22.	North–south section along 105E through the Threshold and East Cave.	125
8.23.	Sections through North Cave deep sounding: a) deep sounding 1988; b) re-cut and enlarged 1989.	125
8.24.	Plan of West Cave stone-collapse level showing Globigerina and structural Coralline stones.	127
8.25a.	Detailed plan of bedrock and base levels in West Cave areas.	128
8.25b.	Plan of West Cave showing Figure locations.	129
8.26.	Skeletal remains in the West Cave northern niche and associated north chamber areas.	130
8.27.	Section across the north niche looking west.	131
8.28.	Section across the north niche.	131
8.29.	Section across the north niche looking north.	131
8.30.	North–south section across the north niche looking west.	132
8.31.	North–south section across the north niche looking north.	132
8.32.	Section across the north niche looking north.	132
8.33.	North niche (845) from the northeast showing linkage to the deep zone.	133
8.34.	Section of the deep zone looking south.	134
8.35.	Section of the deep zone.	134
8.36.	The deep zone.	134
8.37.	Stratigraphy of the upper and lower parts of the deep zone.	135
8.38.	Profiles of the northeast niche.	138
8.39.	Section from the northeast niche towards the deep zone.	138
8.40.	Section through the Intermediate ‘entry’ zone showing (1196) and (1205).	138

8.41.	a) Port-hole slab fragment and rubble in the Intermediate zone; b) skull deposit (1282).	139
8.42.	Sections through the 'Shrine' stratigraphy.	140
8.43.	Lowest level of the 'Shrine', showing three bundle burials and partly preserved crouched burial.	141
8.44.	Lowest level of the 'Shrine': a) burial stratigraphy exposed in deposit; b) lowest burials.	142
8.45.	Second level of the 'Shrine' (lower 1268).	143
8.46.	Third level of the 'Shrine' (upper 1268).	144
8.47.	Woman with cowrie-shell headdress.	145
8.48.	Fourth level of the 'Shrine' (lower 1206).	146
8.49.	Fifth level of the 'Shrine' (upper 1206).	147
8.50.	Sixth level of the 'Shrine' (lower 960).	148
8.51.	Articulated skeleton located in the northeast corner of (960).	149
8.52.	The stone bowl (841).	150
8.53.	Upper level of the 'Shrine', showing dismantled structural details (1102, 1113) of eastern external screen.	151
8.54.	Robbed-out trench (1102, 1113) of screen of the 'Shrine'.	152
8.55.	Elevations and plan of main intact southern screen.	152
8.56.	Views of the southern screen.	153
8.57.	Plan of kneeling female skeleton (1250) in pit (1251).	156
8.58.	Kneeling female skeleton in pit (1251).	156
8.59.	a) Detail of contents of pit (980); b) pit (980) when empty.	156
8.60.	Upper level of display area (783).	160
8.61.	Lower level of display area (783).	161
8.62.	The display area (783): a) general view looking north; b) detail of female adult skeleton on right side.	162
8.63.	Section across (783).	162
8.64.	Section across the west niche.	163
8.65a.	Plan of lower East Cave in relationship to the Threshold, and the West Cave/Intermediate zone.	164
8.65b.	Plan of lower East Cave showing Figure locations.	165
8.66.	Views of East Cave.	166
8.67.	Lower levels of (1241), southeast corner of East Cave.	170
8.68.	Detail of articulated skeletons in lower levels of (1241).	170
8.69.	Middle level of (1241).	171
8.70.	Detail of the middle level of (1241).	171
8.71.	Upper level of (1241).	172
8.72.	Southwest niche in East Cave (zone f), after excavation.	176
8.73.	Rock-fall partly covering megalithic structures (490), (520), (521).	177
8.74.	Plan of southern end of West Cave (South Cave).	178
8.75.	Southern end of West Cave from the east, showing test pit and the southwest niche.	179
8.76.	Altar-shelf arrangement in the Ġgantija temple.	187
8.77.	Newly visible megalithic stones on the northern exterior of the Circle, recently cleared of undergrowth.	188
8.78.	Niches in the Intermediate zone: the so-called 'chapel'.	190
8.79.	View of one complete upright (914) and one broken upright stone of a structure to the east of the 'Shrine'.	190
8.80.	The incomplete D-perforation tie holes on stone (665.2) of the north side of the main intact screen.	191
8.81.	Rubble in the upper part of the 'Shrine' against the east wall of West Cave.	192
8.82.	Views from above East Cave looking south as the layers of cave collapse were removed.	194
8.83.	Aerial view in 1990 showing West Cave during clearance of nineteenth-century fill deposits.	196
8.84.	The West Cave excavations.	197
8.85.	The East Cave excavations.	201
8.86.	General view looking northeast across excavations in 1991.	204
8.87.	Recorded stone rubble and collapse and standing/fallen Globigerina megaliths.	205
Chapter 9
9.1.	Location of major Tarxien Cemetery areas and deposits, mentioned in the text.	208
9.2.	Plan of deposits over the North Cave collapse.	209
9.3.	Stratigraphy over the North Cave collapse.	210

9.4.	Sections through the North Cave collapse.	211
9.5.	The grey Bronze Age deposit in the northern area of the site.	211
9.6.	Stratigraphy on the eastern approaches to the Circle.	214
9.7.	The Bronze Age wall on the eastern edge of the site.	215
9.8.	Stratigraphy in the Threshold area of the Circle.	217
9.9.	Stratigraphy above the East Cave collapse.	218

Chapter 10

Pottery

10.1.	Żebbuġ pottery: storeyed and devolved jars.	220
10.2.	Żebbuġ pottery: devolved jars.	221
10.3.	Żebbuġ pottery: ovoid jar, cups, open bowls and cross-hatched decoration.	222
10.4.	Żebbuġ handles.	223
10.5.	Żebbuġ decoration.	224
10.6.	Evans's Żebbuġ pottery forms, showing presence at the Circle.	225
10.7.	Mġarr pottery and exotic items.	226
10.8.	Ġgantija pottery.	227
10.9.	Evans's Ġgantija pottery forms, showing presence at the Circle.	228
10.10.	Saflieni-style pottery.	229
10.11.	Saflieni-style pottery.	230
10.12.	Evans's Saflieni pottery forms, showing presence at the Circle.	230
10.13.	Tarxien pottery: bowl forms.	232
10.14.	Tarxien pottery.	233
10.15.	Tarxien pottery.	234
10.16.	Tarxien pottery.	235
10.17.	Handles.	236
10.18.	Evans's Tarxien pottery forms, showing presence at the Circle.	237
10.19.	Tarxien Cemetery and Borġ-in-Nadur pottery, exotic material, terracotta anchor weights.	240
10.20.	Evans's Tarxien Cemetery pottery forms, showing presence at the Circle.	241

Lithics

10.21.	Chert-flint scrapers: large scraper-knives.	244
10.22.	Chert-flint scrapers.	245
10.23.	Chert-flint knives, blades, scrapers, cores and waste flakes.	246
10.24.	Chert-flint blades and flakes.	247
10.25.	Chert-flint and stone flakes.	248
10.26.	Small chert-flint chips and flakes.	249
10.27.	Obsidian blades, chips and flakes.	251
10.28a.	Obsidian distributions across the excavation areas identified by source.	252
10.28b.	The relative percentage of lithic categories in chert-flint and obsidian.	252
10.28c.	Flint distribution across the site.	252
10.28d.	Obsidian distribution across the site.	252
10.29a.	The relative quantities of rock types represented in axe-pendants.	254
10.29b.	Distribution plot of axe-pendants across the Circle.	254
10.29c.	Width-length plot for Circle axes, showing a trend towards small axe-pendants.	254
10.29d.	Width-length plot for Hal Saflieni axes, showing a trend towards larger axe-pendants.	254
10.30.	Polished stone axes: functional types.	256
10.31.	Axe-pendants in hard stone.	257
10.32.	Axe-pendants and pendants.	258
10.33.	Carved stone and decorative stone.	261
10.34.	Stone weights and pounders.	262
10.35.	Stone bowls and troughs, palettes, lamps, rubber and grindstone.	263
10.36.	Stone bowl.	265
10.37.	Roller stones.	266

Shell and bone

10.38.	Shell pendants (principally from the Żebbuġ rock-cut tomb).	270
10.39.	Shells, natural and modified.	271
10.40.	Beads and buttons.	273
10.41.	Rounded and cylindrical beads.	274
10.42a.	Bead, shell and pendant materials.	275
10.42b.	Bead forms and shapes.	275
10.42c.	Recovery distribution of beads (excluding shells and buttons) in main contexts.	275
10.43.	Pseudo-anthropomorphic bone pendants.	278
10.44.	Pseudo-anthropomorphic bone pendants.	279
10.45.	Worked and figurative bone objects.	281

Figurative sculpture

10.46.	Statue menhir (SF88) from the Żebbuġ rock-cut tomb.	282
10.47.	Żebbuġ statue menhir from Ta' Trapna.	283
10.48.	Standing skirted figure, reconstruction and principal parts.	285
10.49.	Central torso section of the standing skirted figure, showing re-fitment.	286
10.50.	Base plinth of standing skirted figure, SF720, SF722, SF774; leg fragment, SF992.	287
10.51.	Component parts of the figure.	288
10.52.	Figure parts.	288
10.53.	Distribution of the broken figure fragments, concentrated within an area 7 m in diameter.	289
10.54.	The twin figures.	290
10.55.	The twin figures, showing details of colour, carved skirt, feet, hair and 'baby'.	291
10.56.	The twin figures.	292
10.57.	The bed structure.	294
10.58.	Comparable bed figures.	296
10.59.	The twin figures in situ together with ceramic strainer (SF743).	297
10.60.	SF784/6 and SF784/2: subrectangular figures.	299
10.61.	SF784/3 and SF784/9: subrectangular figures.	300
10.62.	SF784/4 and SF784/7: subrectangular figures.	301
10.63.	SF784/1, SF784/5 and SF784/8 (animate figures).	302
10.64.	Cache in situ.	302
10.65.	Cache details.	303
10.66.	Sketch and photograph of cache (SF784) in ground.	304
10.67.	Terracotta figurines.	306
10.68.	Terracotta figurines.	307
10.69a.	Figurines.	308
10.69b.	Figurines.	309
10.70.	Stone figurines and Tarxien Cemetery terracotta figures.	310
10.71a.	Figurine condition.	313
10.71b.	Distribution of Temple Period figurines at the Circle.	313
10.71c.	Distribution of Tarxien Cemetery phase figurines at the Circle.	313

Chapter 11

11.1.	Location of major human-bone deposits in the Circle.	317
11.2.	Fragmentation of pottery and bone: pottery sherd size and bone fragmentation index.	317
11.3.	Fragmentation of pottery and bone: pottery sherd size and % recognition of human bone.	317
11.4.	Relative proportions of skulls, limb bones and residuals: a) basic model; b) contexts.	320
11.5.	Distribution of age and sex in the Tarxien deposits.	321
11.6.	Comparison between two calculations of total MNI.	322
11.7.	Scatter diagrams comparing incidence of joint disease against MNI and NISP.	326
11.8.	Scatter diagrams comparing incidence of dental disease against MNI and NISP.	326
11.9.	Scatter diagrams comparing incidence of dental wear against MNI and NISP.	326
11.10.	Scatter diagrams comparing incidence of disease against MNI and NISP.	327

11.11.	Trend of disease over time employing MNI and NISP.	327
11.12.	Scatter diagrams comparing incidence of stress indicators against MNI and NISP.	328
11.13.	Trend of stress indicators over time employing MNI and NISP.	328
11.14.	Location of major animal bone deposits in the Circle.	330
11.15.	Size range of the first phalange of sheep.	331
11.16.	All collagen $\delta^{13}\text{C}$ and $\delta^{15}\text{N}$ values from the Brochterff Circle.	338
11.17.	Apatite $\delta^{13}\text{C}$ and $\delta^{18}\text{O}$ values from the Brochterff Circle, with associated chronology from AMS dating.	339

Chapter 12

12.1.	Graphical representation of the radiocarbon dates from the Circle.	343
12.2.	Plan of the Circle showing locations of dating samples.	345

Chapter 14

14.1.	The changing context for the life cycle.	362
14.2.	Ġgantija activity at the Circle (before the construction of the Circle).	364
14.3.	Model for the disarticulation process of human body parts.	366
14.4.	Movement of body parts at the Circle.	367
14.5.	The male foundation ancestors.	367
14.6.	The location of pre-adult concentrations.	368
14.7.	Significant animal deposits.	368
14.8.	Symbolic artefact deposits.	369
14.9.	The Tarxien life cycle.	371
14.10.	Lateral ritual layout in an idealized temple.	372
14.11.	Key features within the funerary temple.	373
14.12.	Reconstruction of West and East Caves of the Circle and its entry.	374
14.13.	Reconstructed view looking southeast from inside the north end of West Cave.	375
14.14.	Model for the recycling of ancestral memories with the outside world on three cosmological levels.	376
14.15.	Reconstructed view from within East Cave looking southwest into the south niches.	377
14.16.	Reconstructed view of the central sacristy-‘Shrine’ containing the stone bowl, from East Cave.	378
14.17.	Map of the materialization of the built environment in the Mediterranean during 3000–2400 BC.	379
14.18.	Reconstructed view of East Cave from the southeast corner.	382

Appendix 3

A3.1.	Average particle-size distribution for sample GH27.	403
A3.2.	Average particle-size distribution for sample BR94/49.	403
A3.3.	Average particle-size distribution for sample BR94/203.	403
A3.4.	Average particle-size distribution for sample BR94/369.	403
A3.5.	Average particle-size distribution for sample BR94/1290.	404

Appendix 6
