We are improving our services for YOU!

The UM Library is pleased to introduce a new functionality in OAR@UM which allows users to deposit video content regardless of the size and length, both in Open and Restricted Access.

Faraday Course Malta 2018 videos now available in OAR@UM

The first Faraday Course Malta which took place between 5th and 8th April 2018 was jointly organised by the Faraday Institute for Science and Religion [Cambridge, UK] and the University of Malta.

The lectures and discussions helped participants grapple with questions related to the dialogue between Science and Religion.

If you wish to deposit any video content in OAR@UM, please contact the Open Science Department
