Campus Fest is back

For this year's two-day edition, Campus Fest will offer a truly immersive experience.

This year, KSU will once again be organising Campus Fest on October 13-14 at the University of Malta grounds.

For this year's edition, KSU have revamped the concept of what Campus Fest has become by changing the whole format of the festival, which will be held over two days instead of the usual one.

Apart from adding another night of entertainment, KSU will also offer a limited number of camping spots, for a truly immersive experience.

“Big names such as Relikc and Mana Tapu are playing on the first night”

KSU will be working closely with various companies and individuals to offer a jam-packed programme spread over the weekend, with activities during the day ranging from archery to yoga. KSU have made sure to include something which will appeal to everyone in one way or another.

Apart from the new and innovative ideas, Campus Fest will offer the usual entertainment during the evening, with big names such as Relikc and Mana Tapu playing on the first night, among other local up and coming bands.

With some surprise acts in line for the second night, this year's edition of Campus Fest will surely be one for the books.

KSU is currently finalising the last preparations for the festival and is very much looking forward to hosting this year's edition of Campus Fest.
