13. The election of the student members shall be held annually during the first half of the first semester.

Credits

14. A Credit value is assigned to each Unit, indicating the total learning time, including time devoted to tuition, private study and assessment, which an average student might be expected to spend in achieving the learning outcomes associated with the Unit; one Credit nominally represents twenty-five hours of learning, of which five to seven hours are normally direct teaching when a Unit is imparted in the standard lecturing mode.

15. Units shall normally be assigned four or eight Credits.

Assessment - Marking and Grading

16. Examiners shall express the student's performance in the assessment of Units as a percentage mark and as a grade as indicated in the tables below. Both the percentage mark and the letter grade shall be recorded in the student's academic record. For the purpose of determining the award classification, the percentage mark shall be used.

17. The following grade when assigned to Units shall not be taken into consideration for computation purposes but forms part of the student's academic record:

Grade	Descriptor
I	Temporary grade for Incomplete work due to justifiable reasons (illness, approved absence, etc.) for which the deadline for submission of work has been extended or the assessment date has been postponed, provided that the student is examined during the first available session.

Assessment Methods

18. The Method of Assessment for each Unit shall be indicated in the Unit description and published in the online Catalogue of Units.

19. When the Method of Assessment comprises more than one assessment component, the percentage weighting of each component shall be given. Students shall be awarded the Credits associated with the Unit if they obtain an overall weighted mark of 45% or higher for the Unit as a whole.

20. Unless in special circumstances and with the approval of Senate, all students on the same Unit shall be assessed by the same method/s of assessment. Supplementary assessments shall normally have the same mode of assessment as the corresponding first assessment, provided that a different mode of assessment may be approved by the Board of Studies in special circumstances.

21. (1) Assessment may be made:

(a) in a continuous mode, i.e. by a set of assessments, which may take the form of class tests, take-home assignments, oral tests, or a combination of two or more of these methods, or any other method of continuous assessment approved by the Senate distributed throughout the Unit; or

When a Unit is assessed by coursework only, the date of submission of the work shall not be set later than the last day of the examination session following the semester during which the Unit is given.

Supplementary Assessments

23. (1) Students who fail any Unit shall be allowed a supplementary assessment provided they satisfy all other requirements as may be relevant to the Unit. A failed Unit shall be re-examined once only.

(2) Students who fail a Unit due to unjustified absence for an assessment or due to non-submission of coursework by the set deadlines may be allowed a supplementary session at the discretion of the Unit lecturer/s.

24. In the supplementary assessment of a failed Unit, students may be required to be reassessed either in particular component/s of the assessment or in all the components of the assessment as indicated in the description of the Unit. An assessment component may be indicated as not having the possibility of a supplementary assessment, in which case the original mark obtained in the component is retained.

25. In supplementary assessments, the maximum mark/grade that may be awarded shall be 45%, grade D.

26. Supplementary assessments shall be held as follows:
