Secondary Education Certificate Level Examinations: General Statistics

Due to the COVID-19 pandemic, the Main examination session that usually takes place between March and June was cancelled. For school candidates, a predictive level of attainment for each of the subjects they studied at school was issued. This mitigation measure ensured that fewer individuals required to sit for the SEC special session of examinations held in September. Certain parts of some subject examinations were not held to further mitigate the effects of the pandemic. This document shows the attainment of candidates following the Special September session of SEC examinations.
