MONHE Dissertation Logbook intentions

The MONHE dissertation logbook is intended as a record of supervision sessions and the students' progress from one supervision meeting to the next. Above all it is intended as an opportunity for the research student to critically reflect on the research in progress, the research processes and the learning involved. It is the responsibility of the student to add the next logbook record entry soon after a supervision meeting and sharing it with the supervisor for endorsement. The next page shares a template for structuring the logbook entries.
