

L-Università
ta' Malta

Department of Psychology

Faculty for Social Wellbeing

Master of Science in Psychological Studies (M.Sc. Psychological Studies)

This course provides a complete grounding in the theory and practice of research. If you love research and if you wish a career as a researcher in the social sciences, this is the course for you.

The course has modules in the theory of doing research (30 ECTS) and a dissertation on a topic of your choice (60 credits).

You will be encouraged to present your work at psychology conferences. You have the option of doing only part one of the course and get a Postgraduate Certificate in Psychological Studies which may help you get into a professional M.Psy. Course.

This is a part-time evening course and spans over two to three years. Applicants to this course must hold a degree in psychology (Second Upper).

On successful completion of this course you can seek employment as a researcher at University of Malta or other research institutions or you may want to further your studies are read for a PhD with the Department of Psychology.