5. PROCEDURE

- 5.1 The Head of the Melitensia Special Collections is responsible for identifying Melitensia publications which are published locally. Publications are identified through checks on different mediums related to Malta and the Maltese Islands for recent publications. The publishers of items that are to be requested under the provisions of the legal deposit are identified by the Head of the Melitensia Special Collections.

- 5.2 Subsequently the publisher is contacted and a request for a free copy is made. In circumstances when the Library is dealing with new publishers, a copy of the Malta Libraries Act (2011) highlighting the clause that stipulates that the University has a right for legal deposit and a covering letter endorsed by the Director of Library Services is forwarded (as per Appendix 1).
- 5.3 As per the Malta Libraries Act (2011) the copy due to the University Library shall be deposited within two weeks of the established request having reached the publisher. In the eventuality that the publication is not received within the required time frame a gentle reminder is sent to the publisher about the requested publication until this is deposited at the University.
- 5.4 Since two copies of most publications are retained at the Melitensia, a second copy is acquired from the same publisher against payment. Thus the publisher submits two copies: one as a legal deposit copy which is free of charge, while the second copy is submitted together with the relevant invoice.
- 5.5 When the publications are received from the publisher, the Head of Melitensia acknowledges receipt of the legal deposit copy of the requested publication either through UM email or by post.
- 5.6 The publications are then passed on to the Acquisitions Department for processing. The Acquisitions Department is responsible for processing the payment request for the publication retained at Melitensia.
- 5.7 After the payment process, the books are accessioned by the Acquisitions Department team.
- 5.8 The books are then sent to the cataloguing department to be catalogued. Here books are catalogued according to AACR2 rules, they are also given a classmark and subject headings. Second level cataloguing is used for Melitensia publications, that is, more information is put in the bibliographical record such as the size of the book, number of illustrations etc.
- 5.9 Once this process is completed the Melitensia publications are passed on for finishing which is carried out within the cataloguing department. Here their shelfmark is printed and attached via archival tape to the spine for ease of shelving and retrieving. Then these recent newly catalogued publications are taken to the Melitensia Special Collections where they are shelved according to their classification mark (shelfmark). The shelfmark indicates the section where they should be placed since different classmarks correspond to different subjects (e.g. MZK- British Malta, MZ1-Reference books, MZ35- Geography).

Extension of legal deposit provisions to the University of Malta Library

The recently promulgated Malta Libraries Act (Chpt. 511 of the Laws of Malta) has extended legal deposit provisions to cover the University of Malta Library as the leading academic repository of the nation. Article 10 of the said Act stipulates that, in the case of the University of Malta Library, a copy of every publication shall be deposited within two weeks of a request having reached the publisher from the said Library. In implementation of the above the University of Malta Library will henceforth be forwarding quarterly notifications for these publications which shall be legally deposited within its collections. Your co-operation will be much appreciated.
