Environmental Engineer

WasteServe Ltd.

Special interest in : Waste management

Personal Profile

Nicholas Vella is a Waste Engineer who balances the rather unpalatable aspects of his job (where he makes waste safe for the rest of us on the island of Malta) with two enjoyable and beautiful hobbies – travelling – either abroad – to meet other young people and students through a student organisation or beneath the waves to enjoy the beautiful Maltese waters through sub-aqua diving.

Nicholas is also a keen off-roader and is a particular fan of Land Rovers and even encouraged his employers to purchase one recently.
